

Notice of Postponement about Kitchen & Bath China 2022

Dear Exhibitors, Visitors and Colleagues,

A new wave of epidemics has broken out in Shanghai and many places across the country presently, and we are facing severe and complicated situation of prevention and control. In accordance with the country's overall deployment of epidemic prevention and control and corresponding requirements of Shanghai government, in order to effectively protect the health and safety of exhibitors, visitors and colleagues, as well as to ensure the effect of the fair, the organizer has decided that Kitchen & Bath China 2022, originally scheduled at SNIEC on June 8 – 11, will be postponed.

We are paying close attention to the situation of the epidemic and remain in close communication and coordination with the government department and the exhibition center. Specific arrangement for the postponed fair will be announced later.

We wish to thank all the exhibitors, visitors and colleagues for the strong support and active cooperation! We apologize for the inconvenience caused by the delay of the fair.

Let us work together to overcome the difficulties and embrace the future. We will continue to make every effort to prepare for this and continue to provide you with sincere and professional services.
